Fee	$420
CE hours	12 (six 2-hour sessions)
Faculty	Jamie Morin, PhD, PCC
Format	Live-Online via Zoom Conference

Group and Peer Coaching

Invest two hours a month to expand your leadership agility and explore options to meet challenges in a supportive, confidential group setting under the guidance of an experienced leadership coach.

Ongoing Learning

Address work issues and questions, applying the concepts you learned in the Skills for Influential Leadership program.

Practice Gestalt Leadership Concepts

Solidify your learning and practice new ways of being a more effective leader or manager in your business or organization.

Connect with a community of peers, where you will have an opportunity to work on professional dilemmas and challenges, explore self-awareness issues, and bring case studies to the group to widen and deepen your leadership skills.

Benefits

Participants will:

- Increase awareness of themselves as leaders
- Better articulate goals and leadership challenges
- Gain insight into current work issues
- Practice the use of key Gestalt leadership concepts to address everyday situations
- Strengthen ability to assess employee issues and see patterns
- Identify obstacles that interfere with optimal leadership
- Enhance leadership presence and skill with using oneself as an instrument of influence and change
- Experience ongoing support and perspective from faculty and other participants

Participants

This program is designed for graduates of Skills for Influential Leadership (or other GISC leadership programs with faculty approval) who are seeking a group of dedicated peers with whom to engage in ongoing professional development under the guidance of an experienced leadership coach and member of the GISC leadership faculty.

Groups will be filled on a first-come, first-served basis, and each will begin as soon as it has 4-6 members, with a target start of winter-spring 2018.

If you are interested in joining a group but these dates and times don't work, please let us know and we will try to work out an alternative.
