

Skills for Influential Leadership

Dates	October 9-11, 2013 Begins Wednesday, 9am Ends Friday, 5pm
Fee	$2,200 GISC Members: $2,150
CE hours	22 - APA, ICF
Faculty	Nancy Hardaway, MEd, and David Kinsman

This workshop is an introduction to GISC's model of influential leadership and presents the interpersonal skills that build highly effective groups and organizations. The focus will be on developing self-awareness and personal impact, understanding the cycle of change and how to productively handle resistance to change, and practicing techniques of managing teams.

Using a variety of feedback tools, including a pre-workshop assessment instrument, participants will experience a rare opportunity to understand their impact and build awareness of their competencies. Practical opportunities will be provided to explore how to increase influence and accomplish objectives.

Through small group leadership exercises and case work, participants will practice how to support effective group behavior, effectively manage differences, and work with the dynamics of change and resistance. The program will present research and theory of this leadership model but will emphasize practice, reflection, and feedback. Through a combination of presentations, individual and small group exercises, and discussion, participants will gain a new understanding of what characterizes effective leadership—both for themselves and for others. A pre-workshop personal assessment instrument will be included.

“Already a seasoned professional, I moved to a new area and faced many challenges adjusting to changes in my personal and professional life. The Skills for Influential Leadership class helped me reevaluate the value and skills I bring to the table. I left the three-day program with renewed interest in collaboration and problem solving as well as a renewed sense of confidence. I can't wait to go back to another program.”
